

FIRE IS SPREADING

Over the last three months, three rail bridges have been in set alight in Oregon and Washington. No one has been caught and no motive has been established for any of the fires, each of which caused significant disruption to rail networks.

Rail is the backbone of the mega-machine. It powers the systematic plundering of planet. It's no secret that industrial capitalism is killing the earth and snuffing out any chance of living free. We see the destruction all around us. What we don't see, and what the forces of domination don't want us to see, are the everyday acts of revenge being taken by the bold.

Against the railroads that ferry the loot of the earth-destroyers.

Against the cyber-networks that keep us plugged-in to our digital prisons, always watched and controlled.

Against the condos, the Teslas, the boutiques and avenues of the rich, who profit from our suffering and misery.

And against the police and private security who kill and kidnap to keep the machine running smoothly.

The targets are everywhere. Where will you start?

AGAINST ALL AUTHORITY! FOR A LIFE OF FREEDOM!
